- Mary: Hi, Bill! I heard you are going to visit Zhuhai next week. Have you found a place to stay?
- Bill: I downloaded some hotels information from the Internet and I am wondering which one I should choose. Any suggestions.
- Li: Show me what you've got. Why don't you go for the five star hotel - Vocation Inn? It has the best customer service and facilities.
- Bill: Oh, that's too expensive. I am a bit short of cash. How about AA Inn? It is the cheapest and the room size is similar to Jingming Inn.
- Li: Yeah, that is a good choice. But AA Inn is not as well located as Jingming Inn. Jingming Inn is more convenient to go sightseeing and shopping.
- Bill: Ok. Good point.
- Li: How about the business suite in Jingming Inn?
- Bill: I prefer a smaller room, Standard is fine and it is cheaper.
- Li: Ok. Let's call Jingming Inn.

After all this confusion, I am now writing this diary in my room at 8 Days Inn. Tomorrow, I will go to Yeli Island and Qi'ao Island.

Time for bed. Looking forward to tomorrow.

Good night.

Speaking

Below is a description of an alternative accommodation type.

Do you like it? Why? Discuss with your partner.

Couch Surfers

The word 'Couch Surfers' originated on a social networking website:

www.Couchsurfing.com. The website provides a platform for worldwide travelers to find a couch or spare bed where they can stay for a night. Hosts upload their information on the website. Then couch surfers can contact the host online to apply for a free or cheap stay.

Couchsurfing is popular with most backpackers. It is a change from traditional traveling styles.

Backpackers can not only travel cheaply, but they can also make friends in various countries.
